

ADAMS COUNTY PUBLIC LIBRARY

SECTION 4.510 – PERSONAL COMMUNICATION AND AUDIO DEVICES (adopted 3/9/05)

Cellular phones, pagers, and other personal communication devices are disruptive to the reading and study atmosphere of the library setting. These devices must be set to silent mode in all reading areas of the library.

Personal audio devices such as MP3 players, CD players, cassette players and radios must be set at audio levels that do not disturb other individuals in the library.

Notice of this policy shall be posted in the library. Staff may request that communication and audio devices be used in the vestibule or an enclosed area separate from the main areas of the library.

Flagrant disregard of this policy shall be sufficient cause for asking an individual to leave the library.
